CAUTION - EXTERNAL:

You want to know something John?

I find it very problematic that courts at this level really don't make themselves accessible or even known to the public. Federal level judges should be just as accessible as the Congressman's Facebook page so we can all post a bunch of bitchy comments all we want.

Do you think I ever wanted that to happen to me? No I did not. So it's like buying car insurance when you hit a deer. Arrested at 29 with no priors, uh oh what do I do goes my mind. So I say nobody deserves to be afraid of me like their life is at stake, and then I assess everything else around me and say ok what to do next to never allow an arrest to happen to me again.

And so I remember happier days seeing state level legislators. And then I email you and that bullshit is printed on that stupid fucking website you have been allowing for a year now.

Would you like me to email every US Appeals Court across the country? No you do not want me to do that.

This is stupid. Very very stupid. You know how this went.

I want my house fixed. You know I didn't do that to anyone. Nobody deserves my end of this.

Benjamin [REDACTED] can say sorry to a lot of people. His family, his lawyers, and THEN everyone around me INCLUDING ALL OF YOU IN BUFFALO WHO ARE VERY SEPARATE FROM MINNEAPOLIS.

You all know how this went.

Go figure out why since March of this year I had been having dreams about me and someone from Hollywood suddenly together.

I am sick of impersonal criminal court encounters. Oh do I see how to prevent that from ever happening to me again.

Put that website on a flash drive and take it down.

Please and fucking thank you.
